

Black Writer a Day Student Testimonials

"Do you enjoy the Black Writer a Day Series? If so, why?"

When I posed the above question to my students, this is how they replied.

"I like Black Writer A Day for Black History Month because it lets us ease into the day and I see books I might be interested in reading."

"I do because I learn about someone new everyday!"

"Yes because I can learn about new writers. I got The Crossover by Kwame Alexander and I love it."

"I love Black Writer a Day because it gets me interested in more books in the library. Some of the books I've seen before but wasn't sure if I wanted to read it or not."

"I love the black writer a day. This is because I get to learn about writers and their amazing books! I also like to hear about the stories behind the books."

"Yes because I can learn about different authors and books that I never heard of before."

"I like it because every day we get to find out new authors that you might like."

"I like the Black Writer A Day because it gives me ideas of what authors to look for in the library."

"I do like it because you get to learn so much more about who writes their books and about their life."

"Yes because it's so interesting hearing about all these people who can write all these awesome books and I looooooove books."

"Yes, I do because I get to experience many African American writers and some I didn't even know. I'm glad I got to learn about them."

"I love Black Writer a Day because I get to learn about people I didn't [know] exist which is kind of weird."

"Sure because it's cool and it takes up time during the class period :)."
